27th Graduation Ceremony

It is the most momentous memorable and super special day ever. Every student cried for what the teachers and parents had done for them. They had their own achievement after all.

Different from other schools, our graduation ceremony did not celebrate traditionally in a big theater or an auditorium; we had it at our cozy school hall. This year, the theme is 'Aim high, fly high'. My students wrote their own story and composed songs with the help of teachers.

By the way, before telling you what and how the ceremony was going on, I had to tell you about the background of this graduation class. There was only one class. Alas! There were only two students when they were in Primary 1. It was amazing that there were twenty-four when they graduated. One can imagine the conflicts, the struggles and the argument that might have happened so far.

The class teachers discussed with the students what to perform a month in advance. At the very first beginning, the teachers wanted the students to sing a song and say a few words only. Finally, it turned out to be a play. Undeniably, arguments on casts and costumes were upcoming problems. Even the teachers were afraid that the performance would be a dead duck.

Ultimately, with the teachers' support and students' insistence, the play was on stage and it was a great success.

Writing tips : Alliteration

Alliteration is a literary device. To show the importance of situation, words with the first same consonant sound are put together. In the first line of this article "It is the most momentous memorable and super special day ever.", 'most', 'momentous' and 'memorable' are alliterated while 'super' and 'special' is the second alliterative pair.

momentous 重大 achievement 成就 graduation ceremony 畢業典禮

traditionally 傳統地 auditorium 大禮堂 cozy 舒適 theme 主題 composed 作曲

Alas 唉 struggles 鬥爭 argument 爭議 in advance 預先 undeniably 無可否認

cast 角色 costumes 服裝 dead duck 胎死腹中 insistence 堅持

Singing Competition

When people browse the website, there are advertising on singing competition to win CASHES and PRIZES. In my school, singing competition is not only for fun, but also to train students' confidence as well as to give them chances for a recognition of their talent.

There are various combinations in the competition. Two Primary One kids sang with hip hop dance. Two sisters sang and dance and got the highest applause. Their classmates even hold the cheering signs and yelled like fans in a concert. It was the most energetic programme ever. A boy sang a kung fu song with furious facial expression. Above all, to me, the most touching moment was the song about the growth of a girl: from uncertainty to care; from disobedience to respect; from conflicts to mutual understanding. Tears welled up in my eyes for a while.

Aiming at this year's motto "Aim high, fly high", students carry out a process of PIE. They plan which song to sing. They plan either to sing solo or in group. Then, for implementation, they practise and ask teachers for advice. Then, they perform. Finally, they evaluate how well their work is. The whole process is a goal setting skill. The whole process is a trial and error. The whole process is a self strengthening progress.

Writing tips : colon and semi colon

Colons is used to introduce a list of items and in that the second part is more important than the first part. Semicolons is used to connect closely related ideas or thoughts which carry the same position. Effectively used of colon and semicolons make the writing more sophisticated.

Example: Above all, to me, the most touching moment was the song about the growth of a girl: from uncertainty to care; from disobedience to respect; from conflicts to mutual understanding.

browse 瀏覽 advertising 廣告 confidence 自信 recognition 確認 talent 天賦 combinations 組合 applause 掌聲 energetic 有活力

furious facial expression 憤怒憤怒 uncertainty 半信半疑 disobedience 不服從 mutual understanding 互相體諒 implementation 履行 evaluate 評估
